

Transparent Electronics: An Enabling Display Technology?

J. F. Wager, Professor

School of EECS
Oregon State University, Corvallis, Oregon

ABSTRACT: The recent development of transparent thin-film transistors (TTFTs) and transparent circuits is intriguing from a display perspective. The purpose of this presentation is to first provide an introductory overview of transparent electronics, and to then discuss several possible display applications.